TITAN recognized among Europe's Climate Leaders by Financial Times

TITAN has been recognized as one of Europe's Climate Leaders in the fourth edition of the prestigious list published by the Financial Times. TITAN's inclusion on the list underscores its enduring commitment to environmental stewardship and sustainable business practices. Furthermore, it highlights the company's accelerated progress towards achieving net zero, in alignment with its Green Growth Strategy 2026.

The criteria for selection emphasize companies that have achieved the greatest reductions in their Scope 1 and 2* GHG emissions intensity over a five-year period (2017-2022). TITAN's efforts in mitigating climate change were instrumental in securing its position among Europe's Climate Leaders as it has achieved an 18.1% total CO₂ reduction over this period. Furthermore, TITAN's transparency on Scope 3* emissions and its collaboration with sustainability assessors such as CDP and the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi) were also considered in this recognition.

The fourth edition of Europe's Climate Leaders is compiled by the Financial Times in partnership with data provider Statista. The full interactive listing of Europe's Climate Leaders 2024 can be explored on the Financial Times website: <https://www.ft.com/climate-leaders-europe-2024>

Scope 1: direct CO₂ emissions (gross); Scope 2: indirect CO₂ emissions from electricity; Scope 3: indirect CO₂ emissions (gross) of the supply chain, covering produced and purchased cement and clinker*
